

Linkages and Collaboration

AKUATROP is actively collaborating and developing linkages with government agencies and private sector since its establishment. The aims of the partnership are to assist and share technologies and accelerate knowledge transfer to empower Research, Development and Commercialization. Some of the collaborators also funded a specific project under the MOU signed. The lists of collaborators are as follows:

Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)

• Local Universities

1. Universiti Malaysia Pahang (14th January 2009)

• Industry

1. Easternseas Sdn. Bhd. (12th October 2008 – 13th October 2011)
2. Temanse Aquaculture Sdn. Bhd. (12th October 2008 – 13th October 2011)
3. Lintah Agro Farm (19th May 2009 – 16th February 2012)
4. HP Aquaculture Sdn. Bhd. (19th May 2009)
5. Kelah World (M) Sdn. Bhd. (6th September 2005)
6. Kembang Subur (2005)
7. Nur Infra Feed Sdn. Bhd. (2010)
8. Temanese Sdn. Bhd. (2010)
9. Heritage Farm Sdn. Bhd. (2010)
10. Eastern Seas Sdn. Bhd. (2010)
11. Blue Archipelago Sdn. Bhd. (2010)

• Foreign Universities

1. Bung Hatta University and Kelah World (M) Sdn. Bhd. (6th September 2009)
2. Institut Natinal des sciences Et Technologies De La Mer (INSTM) (15th February 2009 – 16th February 2012)

• Agency

1. World Wide Fund for Nature Malaysia

Linkages with International Universities and Agencies

In 2010, numerous activities have been held by AKUATROP which involved several invited speakers from many international agencies and universities. These activities have indirectly initiated collaboration and linkages with those institutes and universities. Below is the list of the speakers that were invited:-

Scientists	Institutions
1. Dr. Anil Chatterji	National Institute of Oceanography, Goa, INDIA
2. Prof. Dr. Glenn A. Bristow	Dept. of Biology, University of Bergen, Norway
3. Prof. John Lewis	Prof. Emeritus of Zoology, University of London
4. Prof. Ronald J. Roberts	Prof. Emeritus, University of Stirling
5. Dr. A. Sait Sahul Hameed	Assoc. Prof., Zoology Department, C. Abdul Hakeem College, India